“ I met Carissa as I was walking. She had seen me walking many times and asked me if I wanted a ride. Something about her made me feel like I could trust her. Funny thing is come to find out I worked for her mom Cathy at JCPenneys some years before. I had two girls about cams age and we just hit it off. After that we seen each other just about every day for a year or two. We would just talk in her car for hours. We brought my girls and Cam trick or treating. We had bdays together. Idk... Every year around this time now..I get extra sad. I had seen you a few weeks before you passed I wish I stopped and talked with you longer...I wish I knew there wouldn't be more time. I'm sorry carisa I love you and miss you.
