I can't express how sorry I am to hear about Mark's passing. I cried when I heard the news. I prayed for him often and had hoped he would walk back to see us someday. My heart breaks for you. He was a gentle soul and I am so glad that I had the privilege to care for him. Being his nurse, decorating his room , heating up his food , getting him a soda, pestering him to sit up at the side of the bed, and talking about life will always be good memories for me. Your son will be remembered by many at Boston Medical Center especially me. You have an angel in Heaven now and I know he will be watching over you. My thoughts and prayers are with you. With much sympathy and sorrow

I met Mark last summer at Boston Medical Center. He became my surrogate son whether he liked it or not. He inspired me and made me a better nurse. He was smart and considerate. He tolerated me hounding him day after day and never asked me to go away when he surely could have. He was the toughest and bravest young man I know. His memory will live on in my heart forever. Rest in peace Mark.
