“ Hi Mom, you busy? It's been a little over 6 years since you've left us. 3 years since Mike passed away and a little over a year since AJ joined you too. I don't know where you got the strength everyday to handle some of the dealings that life throws at you. I feel like I'm coming apart at the seams, pretty sure that I am actually. Trying to be a good mother and support Julia and baby Giovanni, somebody else you have not met. And still wear the facade of a soccer mom. Things in life have been turned upside down and then back right again only to crumble to pieces. I wish you were here to talk to about some of this stuff you have far more experience and wisdom that I do at the age of 50. I love and miss you Mom and hold you close to my heart always.

“ Hi mom just wanted to say Happy Birthday!! You are missed so much and thought of daily. I wanted to say I think of you everyday when I get mad at Gary and Aj. I picture you looking down on me laughing cause I have to deal with them and you don't. Gary talks about you a lot and we miss our daily talks on the phone to this day. Its hard to believe you have been gone for over a year now. We know you are resting in peace and happier then you was because you are not suffering anymore. Your Granddaughter Laylah Lou Rose is so precious as I know you have seen her. I look at her as a gift from you so we could focus on a new life instead mourning the loss of you so bad. We thank you so much for bringing her into our life. Well mom you are another year older and I bet you look and feel younger then ever...we send our love Gary & Amanda Love you Mom
